ODYSSEY 1988: Volume III

SPRING Pages 4-13

A glimpse of memorable moments from April, May and June 1987. Annual events include Prom, One-Act Plays, Arts Week and Graduation.

HAPPENINGS Pages 14-29

Featuring a scrapbook of fun activities, special days, musical events, clubs, organizations, awards and holidays.

SPORTS Pages 30-46

The thrill of victory and the agony of defeat. Find the athletes, their coaches and some plays in action. Order of appearance: basketball, the cheerleaders, fall sports, baseball and softball.

FACES Pages 48-67

Who's who? The answers are here. The leaders, the staff, the faculty and grades seven through eleven with candids galore.

SENIORS Pages 68-83

These pictures run the gamut from studio portraits to nudes, from serious to zany, from birth to their graduating year 1988.

ADS Pages 84-104

To the businesses who purchased ads, a big THANK YOU! Without this continual support, the cost per copy would be about $40. This financial contribution makes the Odyssey affordable to approximately 100 students every year.

NOW AND FOREVER 1987

Although the Junior Class of 1987 started late on the prom, they worked together to present a prom that will not soon be forgotten. It took many class meetings to come up with the theme, "Now And Forever", and later the band "Double Cross" was chosen by Matt Meagher. President Renée Bissonnette led the class and by June they were ready to decorate.

After two days of assembling, decorating, hanging the canopy, and adding finishing touches, the gym was transformed into a ballroom. Silver hearts were hung along the entrance and purple and black balloons were everywhere. The canopy was created with pink and lavender metallic streamers, and black background paper. The Court was announced at ten o'clock, and then the King and Queen Ray Shepard and Rhonda Goodwin, were crowned by Kristy White and Todd Harvey. The night was truly a success with an excellent band and a lot of help from the class advisors, Mr. Zucca and Ms. Krouse.

The Show Must Go On Spring, 1987

"They're Wrong, Right?" Director — Mary Sue Crowley. Cast — Renée Bissonnette, Kelly Wilber, David Sird, Jim Whitley, Tom Stauckas, Pat Gendron, and Leroy Greene. Renee Steventon, Shannon Bissonnette and Lori Caldwell as extras.

This is a comedy about two opposite sisters, one gorgeous, but flighty, the other brilliant, but plain. When Carey is fired from her job as school editor, her friends demand their rights as citizens, and revolt against sex-role stereotyping.

Ray Shepard and Janet Jesso.

"Adam's Rib Hurts" Director — Tony Goupee. Cast — Ray Shepard, Janet Jesso, Shawn Linn, Beth Eaton, Juli Jesso, Linsey Simpson, Jennifer Simpson, and Tammi Schaefer.

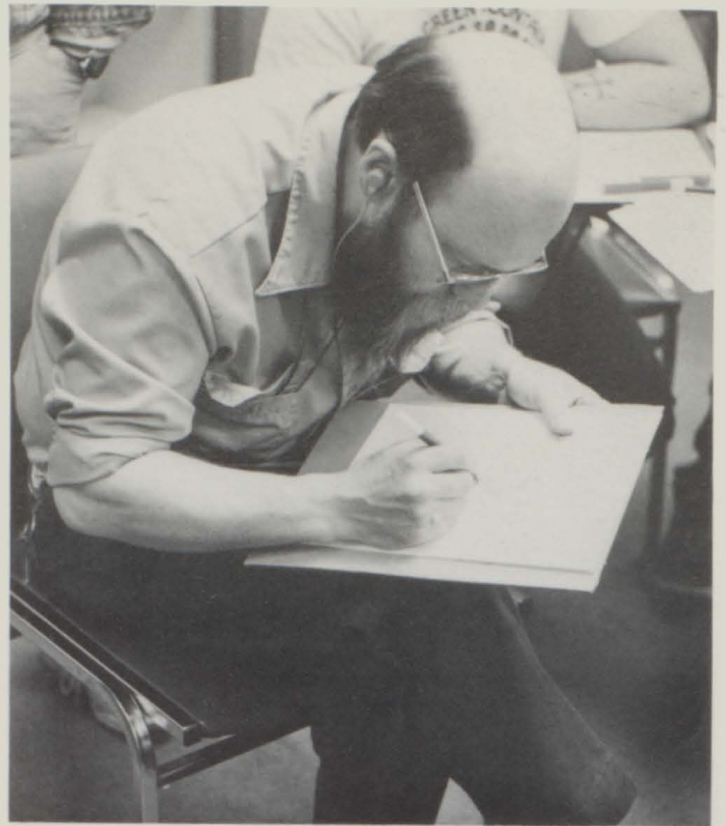

This was a farce about Professor Strong who was called in by an angry father to curb his daughter's spending of his charge accounts. A surprise ending satisfies everyone.

"Candid" Director — Marty Gephart. Cast — Matt Meagher, Pat Whitley, Joanna Carleton, Maryjane Corgnati, Russell Goodwin, and Candy Butterfield.

This was an unusual, current play which combined a slide show with acting. T.J. Toeffler, a high school student, is in trouble for not submitting his photo essay, and the play is his narration of the slides which depict a difficult time in his life.

Bobby Powell participates in the Banner Workshop activities.

John Roberts shares his artistic talents by creating and giving caricatures to students.

Colby Campbell tries his hand at glass cutting under supervision of Midge Scanlan.

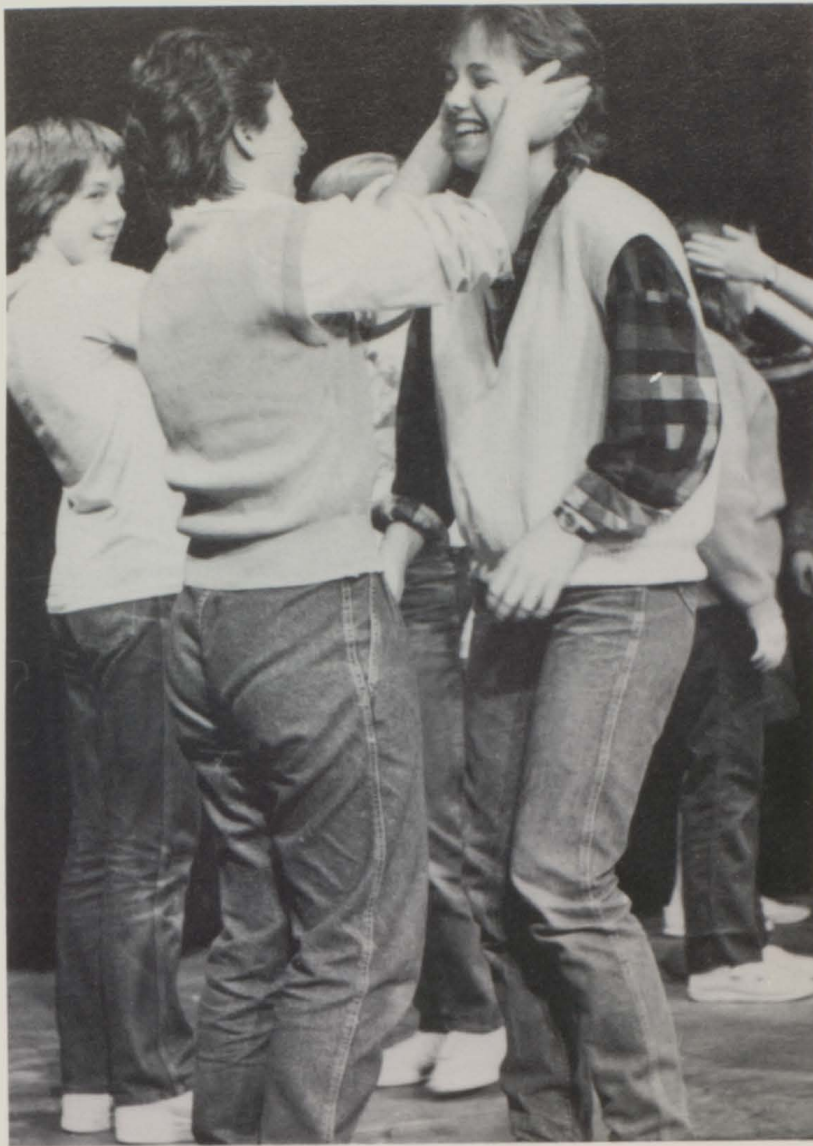

Does this roll? Mrs. Hubbard displays Midge Scanlan's stained glass.

Arts Week

Is there anything in here? Toni Blow wonders as she and Lori Caldwell have some fun in a workshop on mime with one of the greatest, Bob Berkly.

Diane Spambanato shows the inside of an animated Popple as part of her presentation on costuming at Advanced Animations.

From mounds of clay to bowls and beads, Becky Mears, Sam Flewelling, and Bertha Morse get into creating pottery.

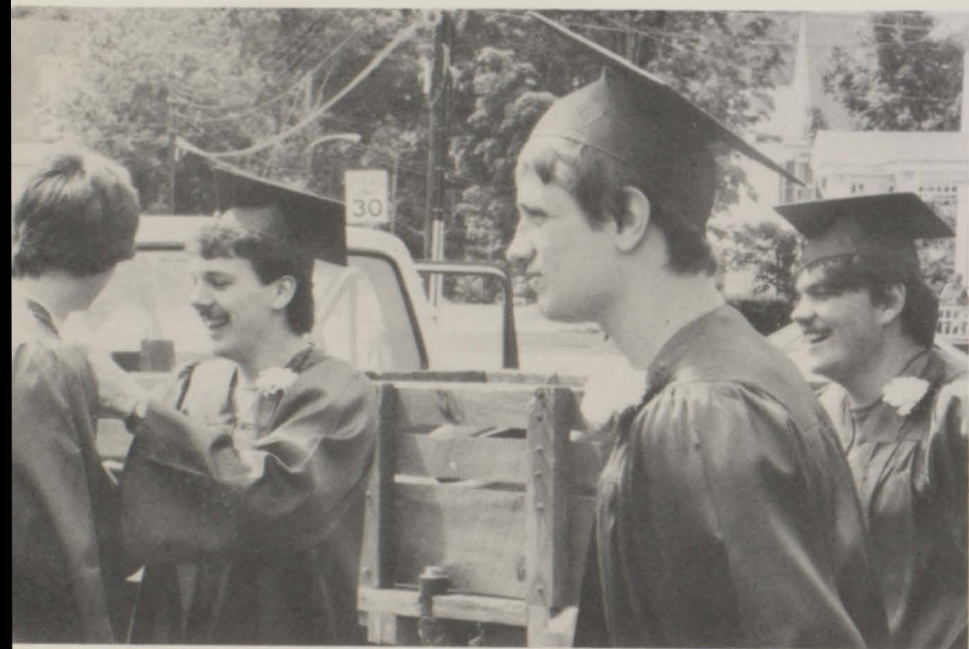

During a lecture and demonstration, Sandy Pierce shows curious junior high students some of her watercolors.

A special thanks to Mr. Childers for all his hard work on organizing Arts Week. The third annual event was another exciting learning experience for the students and teachers.

CONGRATULATIONS GRADS

As tradition calls for, Rochester's commencement took place on the Park. The day of Graduation, Saturday, June 20, 1987, greeted the eleven graduates as they were led across the park by Class Marshalls, Janet Jesso and Jim Whitley. Valedictorian, Raymond Shapard and Salutatorian, Patrick Whitley gave speeches about their personal feelings of the advantages and disadvantages in the school system. Following the presentation of awards by Ms. Gephart, Willard Mills gave the charge to the class. Diplomas were given by Principal Jerry West and School Board Member Helen Pinder. The ceremony was concluded with a Benediction given by Rev. John Pinder. Finally, the Graduates threw their caps into the bright, sunny sky in celebration.

VARSITY HOOP

Rochester finished the '87-'88 season with a 4-15 record. This record, however, is not accurate in illustrating the ability of the team. In many games Rochester led at half-time, and the Rockets lost seven games by an average of only five points.

The team went through most of the season relying heavily on the starters, who accounted for 86% of the team's total offense. The starting five combined for a season total of 871 points, and a per game average of 47.5 points. The starters were led by a trio of seniors — forwards Matt Meagher (5.3 ppg) and David Sird (12.9 ppg), and guard Jason Schroer (12.6 ppg). The seniors provided tremendous amounts of leadership which carried the Rockets. Their contribution will be missed.

The loss of the three seniors leaves many gaps to be filled, but the future looks very promising for the young Rochester team. With many young, talented players moving up to the varsity team, and with two junior starters returning (Pat Gentron — 6.2 ppg and Chellis Lanpher — 10.5 ppg), Coach Blair expects the team to remain a growing force in the league.

Take It To The Hoop

This year was a rebuilding year for the Girls's Varsity basketball team. Although their record was 2-17, the team worked very hard and was a competitive team with the dedicated coaching of Fran Grembowicz. The team consisted of three freshmen, and one eighth grader. The best game of the season was against Wilmington at Rochester. Despite the 61-57 loss, the Rockets controlled most of the game with 55 rebounds against a big, strong team. The team played hard, never gave up and worked hard till the very last minute of the last game. Next year Coach Grembowicz will continue to rebuild.

CROSS-COUNTRY

David Sird, would you like to say anything to the folks at home?

The cross-country team had an outstanding season. They were undefeated during the season and took second place in the CVL. David Sird and Pat Gendron were the team's All-Stars. Pat Gendron and Jesse Cook improved steadily; Pat moved into top position. For the first time in years Rochester ran a JV as well as a Varsity team. RHS is looking forward to another good turnout of runners for next season.

Chet Baxter in the goal turning the ball back down the field.

Marc Spring takes a breather after the first half.

The team always showed good spirit and never gave up, even though it was a disappointing year. During the season, the team's biggest weak points were its offense, lacking the shots on goal and lacking subs for the line. Its strong points were their attitudes and their great spirit. They never gave up, said Dave Wood principal of the school and faithful spectator. He also believes that Chet Baxter had a very good year in goal and that the team's biggest weak point was the small amount of subs. There should have been more players on the team.

Next year will be a year of replacing: Jason Schroer top scorer, Matt Meagher and Joe Whitley main defensive players and Janet Jesso the play anywhere girl. Its most improved players were Andy Deering, Dan Gendron and Doug Duval. Hopefully they will be able to replace the loss of the four seniors.

Outstanding players include: Jason Schroer First team All-Star and high scorer with five goals, Chet Baxter Honorable Mention for All-Stars also 246 saves in goal, Ryan Weber Honorable Mention, Marc Spring for the first and the last goal of the season and Dan Gendron the aggressive defensive man.

The best games of the season were BEATING Thetford 3-1, losing to Stowe 4-6, Green Mountain Valley 0-1 with five minutes left and losing to Chelsea 0-1 with 28 seconds left in the game.

FIELD HOCKEY

The team played good heads up hockey during another rebuilding season. Strong defensive play in the midfield and strong offensive play in the circle highlighted the following games: Wilmington 2-0 where R.H.S. held them 0-0 through the first half and Woodstock 3-0 where the Rockets held them scoreless in the first half and played very close in the second half.

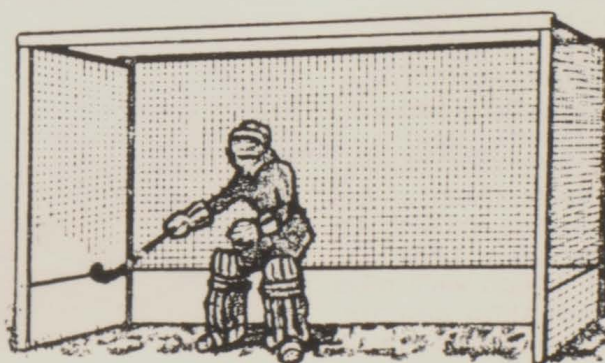

First team All-Stars were Juli Jesso, Lori Caldwell and Charity Laffan. Honorable mention was awarded to Tammi Schaefer and most improved to Krista Johnson. Coach Grembowicz is looking forward to another year of positive attitudes, and never say die hockey.

SOFTBALL 87

Since many of the previous season's starters had been lost, the season was a difficult one for competition. Players were inexperienced for all positions except shortstop. However, the experienced players proved to be worthy at many spots.

Most improved players were Sandy Wakefield, Charity Laffan and Renee Steventon. Renée Bissonnette made first team in the CVL All Stars, as our best overall player. Mention should be made also of the leadership of Kelly Wilber and Rhonda Goodwin. Also, Janet Jesso and Candy Butterfield, coming out for the first time, ended up as starters, proving it's never too late to begin.

Even though we'll miss our graduating seniors, next year should be a much better one.

BASEBALL 87

The Rochester baseball team in its spring '87 season did well overall with its new outfield and new pitchers. The team showed dedication at practices and games. The team had good heads-up base running, never once getting caught while stealing a base. The catchers improved steadily.

The best game of the season was a double header against Twinfield. In the first game Rochester's Chellis Lanpher shut them out by a 9-0 score. Close scores, although losses, were made against Bethel, 1-2, Wilmington, 7-8, and South Royalton, 3-4.

League all-star players were Ray Shepard, first team, and Marc Spring and Chellis Lanpher, second team. Ray's batting average for the season was .463, with a team average of .263. Ray was also voted most valuable player, with the most improved awards going to Marc Spring, Chet Baxter, Pat Gendron, and Joe Carden.

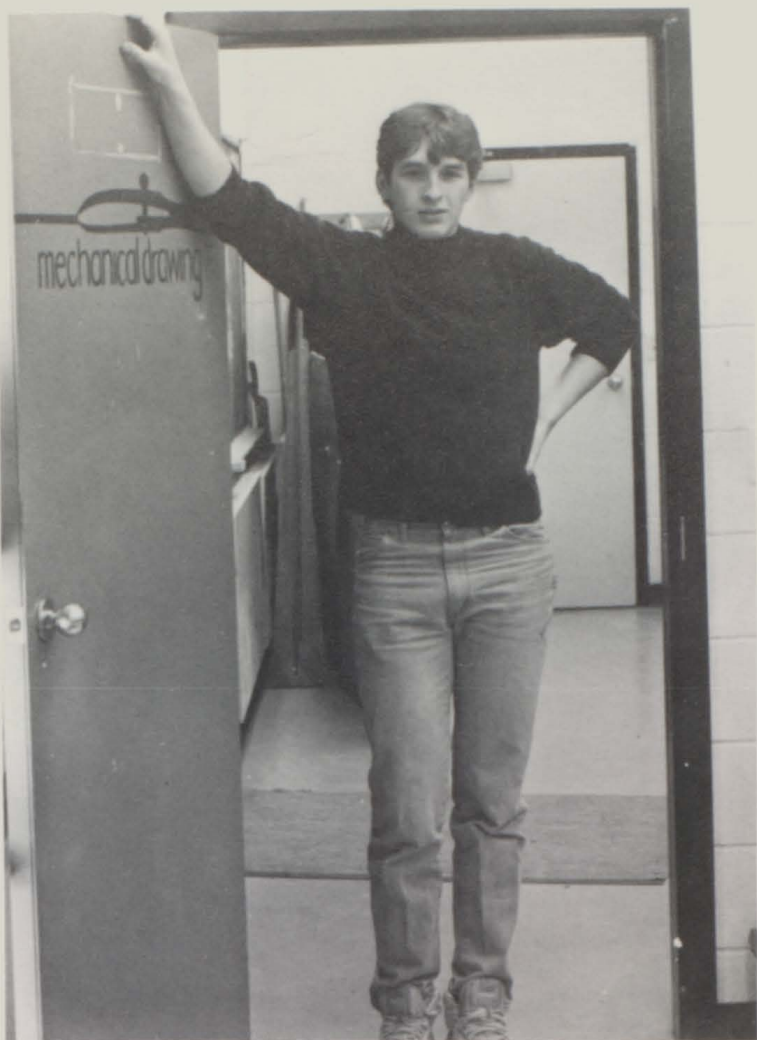

All players gained valuable game experience, especially Chet Baxter, Marc Spring, and Chellis Lanpher in pitching, and David Sird in catching.

Only three players left the team: Ray Shepard, Leroy Greene, and Russell Goodwin. The rest should come back with a strong attitude and a winning team.

Favorite Saying — AIN'T
Advice — Be yourself; who else is better qualified?
Thanks — Thanks to Java and Patti for cheering me up and horsing around to make my day go by quick. I would have never made it without them.

I, Beth, will my creative locker decorating ability to Juli Jesso; and I will my ability to remain calm in any situation, and keep my pacemaker in top condition to Fran Grembowicz.

I, Buddy, will my Fiesta to Tom so he can drive a real car.

I, David, will to Chellis the B5 magnum, which Raymond willed to me, so he can have a good average. I also will to Mr. Moltz my vertical leap so he can touch the rim and wear black pants.

I, Erin, will to my brother Jonathan, the best senior year ever!!

I, Janet, will to Chellis the ability to stay with one person.

I, Jim, will my singing voice to Rob Ingham.

I, Jason, will to Chellis my brother Joel, because no one else would want him.

I, John, will my locker 19, 20 to Jeff Baker.

I, Joe, will my parking space to Pat Gendron.

I, Julie, will to Tammy Martin my ability to stay out of trouble and still have fun.

I, Matt, will my car to Pat Gendron so he can finally make it to basketball practice on time after being at Sandy's.

I, Patti, will to Juli Jesso the ability to get out of class to go to the office parties.

I, Pinky, will to my sister Lori the ability to not get "Cabin Fever" while being grounded . . . AGAIN!

I, Renee, will to Lori Caldwell my ability to catch on to a joke before everyone else stops laughing.

I, Sarah, will my ability to have a good time, no matter what the situation, to Marc Spring.

I, Tom, will to Buddy my Ford Falcon so that he'll have a fast car.

I, Tricia, will to the Juniors my refrigerator and my chair.

Graduating Junior

Beth Eaton — Becomes the first woman ever to be on the NBA All-Star team, but sits the bench due to a knee injury.

Janet Jesso — Becomes a famous book critique for Harlequin Romances, and attempts to lead a Harlequin life with Hubbie, Ray.

Jason Schroer — Becomes the new governor of Texas, and makes everyone drink Corona beer.

David Sird — Becomes rich and famous as the new Super-Hero, FLASH, AND luckily meets Heather Locklear.

Matt Meagher — Becomes the new Jimmi Hendrix of the 1990's and goes crazy trying to remember what happened New Years Eve 1988.

John Baker — Opens up a new chain of Bubba's Tools and shares his profits with the class of 1988.

Tricia Kramarz — Ten years later and still trying to develop the perfect hairspray that holds without the stiff look.

Erin Desautels — Becomes a professional punk, rides around on a Harley, and tours the world.

Buddy Comes — Gets rich from holding on to his Fiesta for thirty years and selling it for one million dollars.

Tom Stauckas — Finally finds his pot of gold at the end of his Rainbow.

Julie Twitchell — Becomes a country music singer and moves to Nashville.

Sarah Deering — Moves back to Rochester after college and opens a Dear Sarah column in the White River Valley Herald.

Pinky Brazil — Marries a rich man, moves to Hollywood, and becomes a famous chef for the stars, but forgets to show up for work.

Renée Bissonnette — Becomes first female president and is overthrown by a revolution led by David Sird and Matt Meagher.

Joe Whitley — Becomes a fashion model for Jordache jeans and quits because he can't stand being on the same salary as a woman.

Jim Whitley — Opens up his own paint shop in Randolph, and becomes a multi-millionaire while finally "laughing his butt off".
